WOODBERRY PANTRY ISSUES RECALL FOR UNAPPROVED PRODUCT

Woodberry Kitchen is recalling the following canned items: Ketchup – 6 oz, Pickled Kohlrabi – 9 oz, Pickled Romanesco – 9 oz, Pickled Fish Peppers – 16 oz, Pickled Cauliflower – 9 oz because they were manufactured without licensed approval.

These products were distributed via the Baltimore Farmer's Market and Bazaar, and through Parts and Labor/Artifact Coffee/Woodberry Kitchen/Shoofly direct purchases.

All of these products can be identified as glass jars with the product names: "Ketchup", "Bread and Butter Kohlrabi", "Pickled Romanesco", "Pickled Fish Peppers", and "Pickled Rainbow Cauliflower" and were manufactured from the dates September 2013 – September 2014.

No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with any of these products.

The recall was initiated after it was discovered that these products were being manufactured and sold without state licensed approval. The manufacture of these items was immediately halted until such time that approval is obtained for their manufacture.

Consumers who have purchased any of these products are urged to return it to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with questions may contact Woodberry Kitchen at 410-464-8000.
